

Calling all real estate agents and their clients! If you're outgoing, outspoken and have always wanted to show off your love of Alaska to millions of viewers, then we want to hear from you!

What's the show about?

Part travel show, part home show, this new series airing on HGTV showcases all the wild wonders that Alaska has to offer! You don't have to be a skilled outdoorsman to enjoy the adventurous activities of Alaska – you just have to want to live the dream. Each episode of the half-hour show follows a realtor as they introduce their home buyers to The Last Frontier and their potential new homes (we're also interested in clients buying vacation homes).

Buyers should be from the lower 48 and in the market for homes that scream Alaska!

These homes can range from a remote cabin on the water to a new home on the outskirts of town (that may even have an outhouse). We want realtors, buyers and homes with personality! WILD PERSONALITY! CAN YOU FEEL IT?!

What to Expect If You Are Cast:

* Agents should be ready to show their client 3+ homes in their price range. Any price range will be considered. We are interested in seeing homes that are uniquely Alaskan (no tract homes or suburban cookie cutter homes please). Our ideal is to cast families that have recently moved or are in the process of moving to Alaska from the lower 48.

* Both agent and client must be willing to appear on camera for 4 days as we follow their journey of selecting a new home.

* Buyers from the lower 48 also must be willing to partake in Alaskan adventures, like dog sledding or salmon fishing.

To Be Considered for the Show, please submit the following listed information to:

chuling@orionentertainment.com

Realtors– Company name, website, biography/resume, photo and contact information.

Buyers– Brief back-story of buyer(s) 2-3 photos and contact information.

 If selected to continue casting, further details will follow **

 Agents & Buyers will be compensated for their time **